With F.M.L.

Calvin Cobb, one of the knowledgable young farmers in Milam County, Wednesday took a look at the family farmer's future.

Speaking to Cameron Rotarians, Cobb saw fewer of "him", the farmer, in the future because of rising costs, lower prices, reduced incentive, high land values, non-farm corporate investment in cattle and farming (for capital gains advantage) and other reasons.

He cited the 1964 agriculture census which showed more than three million farmers, about one million of which produced less than $5,000 annually in farm income.

By such a standard, Cobb rightly noted, about one third of this country's farmers operate on a hobby basis.

110-110-110

The two million remaining, if there are that many since the 1964 census, are out of political influence, Cobb added, because of mass consumer numbers which the political establishment will, by one means or another, accomodate.

In other words, farming is tough, relatively profitless for the enormous investment, and attracting corporate investment which would further press the individual operator to some agriculture wall.

Despite this, Cobb is optimistic because he sees the family-oriented farm more efficient than corporate-structured operations which must yield a certain percentage on investment with hired management and help and enormous prices paid, by comparison, for the land to enter the agriculture marketplace.

Cobb is concerned about farm investment which is solely exercised as a tax advantage for the non-farm operator in cattle (something new) and crops.

But in fact, the Congress is studying the "tax shelter' question of the new non-farm farmer who forces up price of land and operation by paying higher prices and operating with no view toward making a profit from the land.

110-110-110

Men like Cobb, whose life and love obviously are the land and what it can produce, are faced with difficult alternatives. But if they love the land as well as Calvin Cobb knows contemporary farm problems, they'll somehow be efficient enough to survive.

Federal Aid Available

Crime Control Studied

Federal funds for better crime control will soon be available locally through a tie - in with ajoining counties. The assistance could be in the form of juvenile officers, radio equipment, computerized crime detection and officer training. It is available through the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1966 and must come through a congress or council of governments (group of participating counties and cities.)

Milam County and Cameron City officials are studying plans available to determine if they go west (Temple) or east (Bryan) to join a council of governments.

A study from the office of Gov. Preston Smith suggested that the Central Texas Economic Development district serve as coordinating board for crime control funds. The CTED, set up three years ago, represents a 12 county area (including Bell, Milam and McLennan). Bell County balked, labeling McLennan County "unprogressive" and set up a Central Texas Regional Planning Commission to include the six southern counties in the CTED district.

Charles A. Cass was named executive director of the commission and Joe Carroll of Temple has been hired on a temporary basis as coordinator. Judge O. B. Harden said a communication failure had caused some concern about joining the Bell County group. He said notification of meetings had come with one day or less notice and that informaton has been forwarded to Milam County incomplete or late.

Although crime control is the first purpose of the commission, eventually it is seen that law enforceinent, housing, health, education and welfare monies will be directed through it.

Judge Harden pointed out that in some of these areas Bell and Milam counties are already cooperating with benefits for both and no problems. He cited the Bell County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center which Milam countians are using without charge.

Charles Cass said this week that a tentative planning budget of $8,333 had been set up. A $7,500 planning grant has been received from the Criminal Justice Council, office of the Governor, and a ten percent matching fund is to be provided by the Central Texas Regional Planning Commission.

Cass said computers at Central Texas College will be used to determine what services and equipment are needed on a regional basis.

Judge Harden said his office, County Attorney John Henderson and Sheriff Carl Black were compiling a list of Milam County's needs and would include it in the study although a firm decision to join with Bell County had not been made.

Judge Harden said the commission had set a six cents per capita cost for each county and each city government. Locally it would cost the county about $1,300 and Rockdale and Cameron about $300 each.

Warning Issued On Herbicide Use

The Texas Department of Agriculture warns farmers and ranchers in Milam County that under State law, they must obtain a permit to spray hormone - type herbicides for weed and brush control over an area of more than ten acres.

Notice must be given to the Texas Commissioner of Agriculture by all persons who plan to apply the hormone-type herbicides to less than ten acres. This does not include lawns.

The regulations and requirements were detailed in a statement to The Herald by Joe B. Brown, TDA chief inspector for a four county area that includes Milam County. Brown, whose headquarters are at Temple, said the Department of Agriculture had received complaints from people in Milam County about damage to crops possibly caused by herbicides.

The hormone-tye herbicides are formulated to kill broad-leafed plants. The danger in using these herbicides comes when the spray drifts in the air, especially if there is any wind, and lands on crops and trees near the area being sprayed. The drifts can be lethal to broad-leafed plants up to one and one-half miles away, Brown said.

Regulations for use of hormone-type herbicides are stated in HB 402 and Herbicide Regulation No. 1E, which govern all sales and use of hormone-type herbicides. Some of the basic regulations are:

1. No person shall apply Herbicides to a total of more than ten (10) acres in any one year without obtaining a permit for such application.

2. Permit fees: a permit fee of ten (10) cents per acre for acreage sprayed shall be submitted with application for spraying permit.

3. If a person does not spray a total of more than ten acres during any one year, permits or fees are not required.

4. All persons except those applying to lawns who apply Hormone-tye Herbicides to less than ten acres in any one year must give notice of each operation to the Commissioner of Agriculture prior to each operation.

5. Expiration of permits: all permits expire when the acreage for which the permit was granted has been sprayed.

6. Requirements for spray operations: Wind gauge. Wind velocity-no person shall spray Herbicides when the wind velocity exceeds ten (10) miles per hour: Maximum pressures for aircraft equipment should not exceed 50 pounds per square inch: Maximum pressure for ground equipment shall not exceed 40 pounds per suare inch.

Additional information about the regulations, applications for permits, etc., may be obtained from John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin; or the local Texas Department of Agriculture, District 7 Brenham office, phone 836-5641, or by writing P.O. Box 612, Brenham.

1969 MAVERICK

New Maverick Introduced

Hefley-Stedman Motor Co. in Cameron will intoduce the long heralded 1970 Maverick, new small car from Ford Division, on Thursday, April 17.

This $1,995 car is a two-door sedan of modified fastback design with a hint of an air spoiler or "ducktail" at the rear. Designed to carry a family of four with adequate luggage, it is powered by a six-cylinder engine in either of two sizes, 170 or 200 cubic inch displacement. In normal city-suburban driving, Maverick can be expected to deliver 22½ miles per gallon of gasoline.

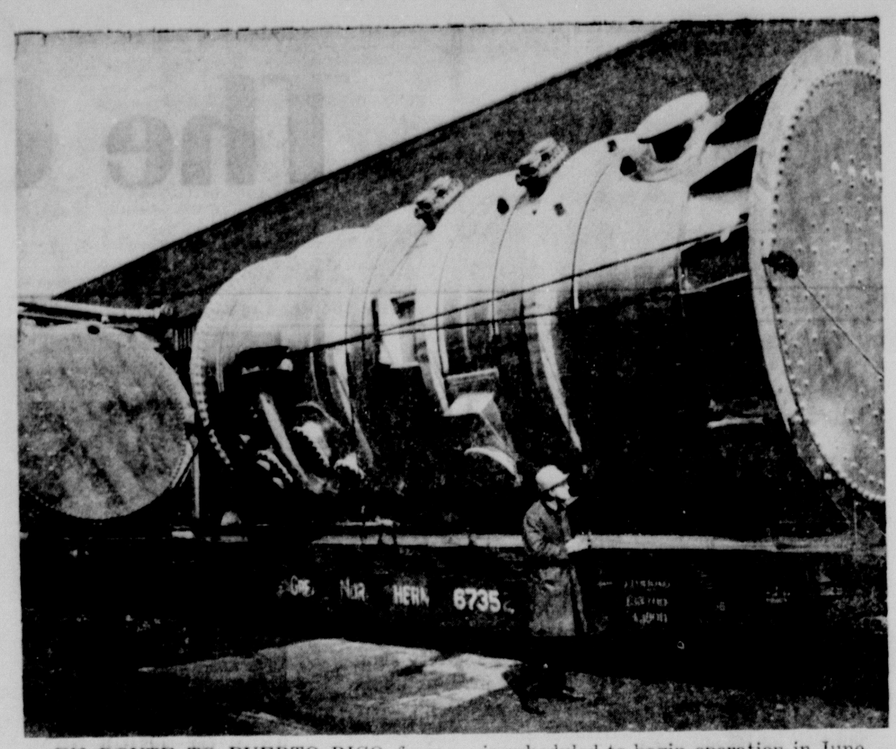

John Naughton, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, calls Maverick "the greatest automotive value ever offered in terms of price, upkeep and features included at no extra cost."

Planned to be economical in purchase price, operating cost and maintenance, Maverick offers a longer, lower, wider body than the principal import, yet turns in a tighter radius for easy handling and parking.

Transmission choice includes the fully synchronized three-speed-manual, the three-speed automatic with an optional shift-for-yourself feature, and, for the first time, a new semi-automatic transmission. Cheaper than the automatic and clutchless, it permits a change of gears with a single movement of the hand lever.

"Maverick will live up to its name in being a unique, independent kind of car," said H. H. Stedman.

"It's bigger and roomier than the imports, but quicker and lighter than the American compacts. Even some of the color names carry out the car's individualistic character--Thanks Vermillion, Hulla Blue, Freudian Gilt, Anti-Establish Mint and Original Cinnamon."

EN ROUTE TO PUERTO RICO from New Kensington, Pa., are these large aluminum tanks that will be part of the all-aluminum desalination plant, developed and being constructed by Aluminum Company of America. The 250,000-gallon a day unit will convert seawater into fresh water on Guayanilla Bay near the twon of Penuelas, and is scheduled to begin operation in June. The Alcoa desalination method functions on waste heat and cold seawater. Heat for the Puerto Rico unit will be provided by waste warm water discharged by a steam-powered electric generating plant operated by the Puerto Rican Water Resources Authority.

SS Beneficiaries Must Report 1968 Salary By Apr. 15

April 15 is an important date for social security beneficiaries who worked in 1968, Jack Calvert, district manager of the Temple social security office, reports.

For those beneficiaries who worked and earned over $1680 last year, April 15 is the deadline date for making an annual report of earnings to social security. The report is not required, Calvert said, of anyone who was 72 or older during the entire year, since these can earn as much as they can and still get all their social security benefits.

The annual report is used to determine the correct amount of social security benefits payable for the year 1968, Calvert explained. A beneficiary who earned $1680 or less during the year is entitled to his benefits for all 12 months. If earnings were over $1680, some or all of the benefts are not payable, depending on the total amount earned during the year.

Wages and self-employment income must be combined for the year if a beneficiary had both kinds of earned income during the year. Investment type income is not included-only earned income from these two sources must be counted, Calvert added.

For beneficiaries who have not received a report notice in the mail, or who have not yet made their report, April 15 is the deadline date for filing this report with a social security office. Any one who needs help in completing the report should contact the Temple social security office or see a traveling representative.

Allow 10 Weeks For Income Tax Refund Before Writing IRS

Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer either has his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue in Austin, said today.

For this reason, a taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should wait ten weeks before writing IRS. By waiting this length of time, most taxpayers will find their inquiry unnecessary, Phinney said.

Millions of tax returns are handled every filing season at the IRS Service Center which serves the eight-state Southwestern Region. The volume of processing operations there makes it practically impossible for IRS to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing is complete.

If it becomes necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and Social Security number, Phinney stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Senkel vsited Mr. and Mrs. Will Senkel of Cameron Sunday afternoon.

Space Age Materials Challenge Designers, Furniture Shoppers

The metal look for home furnishings once was dismissed as too cold and too mechanical; plastics once were used for only cheap, low quality furnishings. But all that has changed.

Metals and plastics are the vogue in present day furnishings, reports Extension home furnishings specialist Bonny Lay, challenging the designer and the consumer.

Metals and plastics challenge designers because they should be designed to take advantage of their many good characteristics. Metals and plastics are not expected to look like another material, explains Miss Lay.

The challenge for the consumer lies in his ability to combine furnishings of these materials with his other furnishings and to accept them for their aesthetic qualities.

These 1969 space age materials suit 20th century furniture designs and fit into homes which express the today feelings. Both metals and plastics can be used in combination with or to complement glass, wood, canvas, cane, leather and many other textures found in the home.

Several types of plastics are being used in furniture of today. Miss Lay, a specialist at Texas A&M, names them: acrylics, urthane, polyproplylene, vinyl and polystyrene.

Computer Course Produced Winner

COLLEGE STATION

A Cameron student in the computer science course taught in six Central Texas schools by the Creative Application of Technology to Education (CATE) Center at Texas A&M has put his new knowledge to prize-winning use.

Bill Perrin won first in the Yoe High Science Fair math division and awards in the Central Texas Regional Science Fair for his project on "Integration by Computer."

He solved a basic calculus problem using A&M's Data Processing Center computer and skills acquired in the CATE course, which is instructed on blackboard-by-wire.

Perrin won a slide rule from the Central Texas Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers and received a special citation from the U.S. Army Science Research Branch.

Darrell Fisher of Cameron won honorable mention in the science fair for his project, "Solving Problems Using The Computer." Both students are Yoe High athletes.

"They work like Trojans in the course," commented Ralph Foster, CATE associate director who teaches computer science with Ike Harrison and Don Ney. "They have driven over several times on their own to get help."

Foster said 47 students in six high schools on the center blackboard-by-wire network are taking the computer science course.

Feed Grain Yield Ahead Of Use

Two major economic trends have largely dominated the feed grain situation in the United States during the past 20 years, reports a Texas A&M University Extension economist.

John G. McHaney lists the trends as the 6 percent annual average increase in per acre yield of feed grains since 1954 and the 3.5 percent increase in the annual rate of their use.

During the period from 1949-1953, domestic use and exports of feed grains were virtually in balance with production. But, he adds, production and use, since, have not stayed in balance and in some years large carryovers resulted. The yield of feed grains in the nation is now about double that for the 1949-53 period but local use, including exports, has increased by only about 50 percent.

The disparity between yield and total utilization has made necessary the diversion of considerable acreage from feed grains to soil-conserving uses. The current feed grain program has as its objective the diversion of 37 million acres.

The sale of feed grains in Texas, mostly grain sorghum, annually accounts for approximately 12 percent of cash farm receipts, says McHaney. Its production in both Texas and the nation is big business and means much to the economy.

Tips From Tippit

Many drivers who worry that they might become ill while driving their cars, and inadvertently cause a serious or fatal accident, will be interested in an invention developed in Belgium.

The device is a bracelet strapped to the motorist's wrist. It monitors the wearer's pulse and perspiration and feeds electronic signals through a cable to a control under the dash.

When the drivers physical condition remains normal, nothing happens. If he becomes tired or ill, chances in his pulse rate and perspiration are noted, and the control box outs out warnings.

First, a light blinks, then a warning whistle, then the car begins to slow down because the device has cut off fuel to the engine. The driver cannot start it again until he takes off the bracelet.

NEEDED: Rec Facilities . . .

Summertime is approaching and Cameron could well be studying, through the city and school systems, what can be added to recreational development.

Some of the people at these new plants are organizing volleyball teams and looking toward organization of summer softball teams and additional bowling teams.

A number of individuals beyond college age have been playing basketball once weekly at Yoe Gymnasium the past few months.

Cameronites and Countians by the hundreds drive out-of-county to attend movies in downtown movie houses in Temple and Waco and as distant as Austin.

In short, there is a growing interest in recreation and not enough facilities to recreate in Cameron.

It looks as if the time is approaching when a downtown theatre is feasible and certainly popular among Cameron and Milam area residents. We do have a drive-in theatre.

It seems as if a joint chamber-city effort to improve the facilities at Wilson-Ledbetter Park to include a softball-hardball diamond for adults and perhaps some additional tennis courts would have merit. The school is in process of getting the Yoe courts in shape.

Considerable effort goes into a summer baseball program for 7 to 14 year-olds who don't have any means to continue the sport through the high school years. There would be reason to expect an industrial softball and hardball league jointly to use an adequate park, scaled to adult needs, like the Little League Park is for the kids.

There is little question that good movies would attract considerable support in a Cameron movie house. We understand it requires quite an investment, but it is one the town should inquire about. And managerial talent is available.

As additional younger families move here, they bring with them a desire to get away from television and a lot of other routine once or twice a week. And one outlet is a good local theatre.

The City of Cameron is drawing more revenue than expected from the 1 percent sales tax. And the Chamber has considered a five year plan to modernize and revitalize W-L Park.

Why can't the five-year plan be cut to two and the City view the prospect of doing some renovating of the Wilson-Ledbetter Lake area, emplacing a ballpark somewhere in town and perhaps additional area for tennis courts, horseshoes, suffleboard, or whatever practically can be provided for Cameron residents, new and old?

The School could assist in expanding a proposed summer program of a year ago by moving forward with completion of the tennis courts and perhaps some handball courts in the vicinity, beside providing summer facilities for other kids.

Recreation is as important as work to people who are working and wanting something to do in their leisure time.

Why Delay Tech's Name Change?

State Sen. Murray Watson's bill to change the name of James Connally Tech to Texas State Technical Institute has run into a filibuster in the Texas Senate.

The presently designated Connally Tech is becoming the modern day boon of Central Texas and setting example for branches in West Texas and the Valley.

We gather the junior colleges of Texas are concerned about Connally Tech's amazing growth. But that should be no surprise.

Connally Tech is geared to the latter 20th Century and is meeting vocational requirements of diverse elements of industry.

It is no surprise a broader, more readily identifiable name is suggested by Senator Watson. It makes sense.

Any effort to impede the improved identity of such an institution is obstructionist in direction, if not in intent.

It serves now what is sorely needed in Texas now: qualified, trained personnel for the blossoming industrial community throughout the North-Central-South Texas area.

Connally Tech serves as a cohesive between booming north and south metro Texas. But most of all, it meets an unmet need for skilled technicians and workers in about 50 categories of jobs, a number which is headed for 80.

We see no need for delaying the name change of an institution which is contributing to the fundamental, modern change in Texas. We wish Senator Watson's bill good fortune.

Liquor Bill 'Misunderstood'; Rep. Kubiak Asks For Views

Liquor legislation that is now before a House subcommittee was explained by Rep. Dan Kubiak, who noted that 'widespread misunderstanding" exists concerning the legislation. He asked for comments on the issue.

"Contrary to some people's belief,' Kubiak said in his weekly newsletter, "this is not a measure that would automatically legalize liquor by the drink on a statewide basis: rather it is an effort to let people of this state vote and decide this issue for themselves rather than by the Legislators."

The liquor issue is contained in a proposed constitutional amendment which would be submitted to voters in November. If the amendment passes in statewide voting, the liquor issue would then be decided on a local option basis, Kubiak said.

"We need greater law enforcement and a crackdown on the abuse of liquor laws throughout the state, especially in automobiles," Rep. Kubiak added, "I welcome opinions on this matter for friends are on both sides of this issue."

The Public Education Committee heard testimony last Tuesday all favoring HB 240 by Rep. George Hinson which would carry out most of the aims of the Texas State Teachers Association for salary increases and increased educational activity in many fields.

This hearing was much shorter than the one for HB 300, which included the Bartlett report on tax valuations. Both bills provide salary increases and wider support for education, but "the Hinson bill departs from the Governor's Report (Hale bill) in two major particulars-the feature of compulsory consolidation and the re-evaluation of all property in the state at fair market value for taxation purposes."

Cities and larger communities favor the Hale bill and smaller communities oppose the compulsory consolidation aspect of the Governor's Committee Report - along with the market value placed on farm and agriculture land, Kubiak said.

The Hinson bill proposes school financing along minimum foundation lines and use of the economic index to determine what help the state provides to balance local community effort.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

Now that Spring has arrived I was removing some weather-stripping in my house out here, well it's not really weather-stripping. it's actually newspapers stuffed under a door with too wide a space at the bottom--the door fit when I sawed it off at the top, but then the house settled and I straightened that out by sawing some off at the bottom, but then the house settled some more and any man ought to know that if he keeps sawing on a door top and bottom he won't have any door left--at any rate, somebody must have stuffed a fresh newspaper under that door because when I pulled it out I noticed an article I hadn't read before.

According to it, a Congressional committee has charged that a billion dollars worth of army tanks has been wasted because the tanks aren't proving satisfactory in Viet Nam.

Not being a military scientist, I won't go into details, which is the same policy I use when asked to explain why I can have a crop failure while everybody around me is making a bumper yield, but what interested me in the article was the Army's reply to the charge.

The Army said sure there are a few bugs in the tanks, but it takes time to iron them out and it will be two years before anybody can say whether the weapon is successful or not.

I wish more people would adopt the Army attitude toward me.

If everybody would wait two years before deciding whatever it was I did or didn't do was a mistake or not, you'd be surprised how much peace and quiet a man could enjoy.

If asked, "Did you fix that loose board on the back steps so it won't flop up and hit somebody in the face?" a man ought to be entitled to say, "Let's wait two years and find out."

Carried all the way from my back steps up through Congress, the Military and into the White House, you can see what a boon this would be to practically everybody.

Why if you could wait two years before correcting a typographical error. . . . .

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Tax Hearing Brings Cries From Affected Interests

By Vern Sanford
AUSTIN

Gov. Preston Smith's first-state tax program fared unexpectedly well in its initial legislative test.

Anguished cries were raised at a House Revenue and Tax Committee hearing by beer, cigarette, coin-operated laundry and cable television interests at sections of a $175 million revenue bill directly affecting them.

Of the four, however, the coin laundries appeared to make the most impression on the Committee.

Surprisingly, not a witness appeared against Smith's proposal, contained in a separate bill, to place a $10 state surtax on moving traffic violations. He estimated that would raise $38.5 million.

Also, it was a surprise that regular laundry, cleaning, dyeing, parking, repair and machinery rental concerns remained silent. This since they, too, would go under the three percent state sales tax if Smith has his way. Naturally, this may or may not indicate consent. Extending the sales tax to include them would raise an additional $57.8 million during the next two years.

Cigarette distributors claimed that the $71 million bite they would suffer, if the per-pack tax is raised another four cents to a total of 15 cents, would drive away smokers and might result in a loss of state revenue. They also claimed that Smith's $6 million tax addition for cigars and other tobacco products would lower consumption and virtually kill the Texas cigar business.

Beer industry spokesmen centered their attack on the fact that they already pay $4.30 a barrel in state taxes, which is far more than most big beer-producing states charge.

Coin laundries argued they had no way to collect a sales tax in their washing machines' nickel, dime and quarter slots and therefore would have to have their machines revamped, at great cost, to take in pennies.

Cable TV spokesmen made no impression at all with their argument of discrimination.

Smith's proposed one half of one percent chemical products tax is expected to draw heavy fire from that industry in an April 16 hearing.

Floor vote on the tax bill is expected to be delayed about three weeks.

WELFARE DEMANDS GROW

Texans will be asked again--and again and again, if necessary--to increase or do away with the constitutional ceiling on state public-assistance grants to the needy, commonly called "welfare".

And they'll get their chance sooner than they think. Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes have agreed to ask the Legislature to call a special election for Aug. 5 to vote on at least five proposed constitutional amendments. . .and possibly eight.

In addition to expressing their views on increasing welfare funds, voters would give their views on providing death and disability benefits to volunteer firemen the 3.5 billion Texas Water Plan; removing the constitutional interest-rate maximum on five types of bonds; and authorizing $200 million more in bonds to finance the Texas Opportunity Plan of college-student loans.

Prime emergency is in the "welfare" situation. Texas' program of minimal assistance to families with dependent children is growing thinner and thinner because of the constitutional spending limit of $60 million.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) now gets $6.15 million of that $69 million. But grants to individual families are going down because of increases in the number of families applying.

These increases are due to court decisions broadening the program; a Medicaid requirement that applicants for that program be on welfare; and poverty workers informing poor people of their right to AFDC.

In September, the Department of Public Welfare had to cut maximum grants for a family with four or more dependent children from $135 a month to $123. Another cut scheduled for May will reduce the benefits paid 8,243 families and will eliminate from the program another 2,470.

In 1967, the Legislature proposed raising the ceiling from $60 million to $75 million, but the voters defeated the proposition.

AMENDMENTS COST

An argument often offered by a legislator trying to defeat a proposed constitutional amendment is the "high cost" of advertising it to enlighten voters.

According to records in the office of the Secretary of State, the total cost of advertising 14 constitutional amendments proposed to Texas voters on the 1968 general election ballot in 243 newspapers was $247,346. That averages out at only $17,667 per amendment, or $72.70 per newspaper.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRESS

Legislative pace slowed last week as lawmakers devoted Monday to eulogizing the late President Eisenhower, and took off at mid-week for an Easter holiday.

Highlight of the week was final passage of the $3.5 billion water revenue bond constitutional amendment which will go on the statewide election ballot August 5 along with several other proposals.

House also approved a resolution for an August vote on removing obsolete provisions from the State's constitution. Later, representatives passed a bill to create a University of Texas at Dallas.

Senate again took the work-load prize. Among 45 bills it passed in a single day was a controversial measure to restore union bargaining rights of city bus company employees when taken under municipal control. Senate also advanced key measures to implement water development plans, voted to raise retirement benefits of elective state officials 50 percent and provided procedures for prosecution of corporations as water-air polluters.

Governor Smith signed into law numerous measures, including state aid for relocating property owners displaced by highway right-of-way buying, expanding home-state tuition benefits for dependents of military personnel and establishing a separate commission for vocational rehabilitation services.

Senate education committee approved a $220 million teacher pay raise bill. But the same measure was detoured to a House education sub-committee after hearings which drew the largest attendance of session.

COURTS SPEAK

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld use by police of a "reverse polarization trap;; device for tracing obscene telephone calls in a Jefferson County case. A one year jail sentence and a $1,000 fine were affirmed.

Supreme Court, overturning lower courts, awarded $70,000 and interest to the City of Fort Worth in a suit against a former land agent and title company. Agent was accused of getting city clearance of a price to be paid for land purchased, then settling with the seller for a lesser amount and pocketing the difference.

Supreme Court set an April 23 hearing on a case in which a woman claimed injuries from falling backward over a power lawn mower in a department store.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

RUNAWAY FATHERS

Irma's two children, living with her in New Jersey, receive regular support payments from their runaway father in California.

Janet's two children, living with her in California, receive regular support payments from their runaway father in New Jersey.

In similar fashion, thousands of families are now getting the benefit of an interstate network of collection procedures. Known as "Runaway Pappy" laws, they have made the long arm of the law a whole lot longer.

The keynote is reciprocity. Each state agrees to act as a collection agency for the citizens of another state, only on condition that the favor is returned. The idea makes such good sense, in dealing with runaway fathers, that it is now in effect—with some variations— in all 50 states.

True, this is not a cure-all for the problem of the family left destitute by a fugitive father. In particular, it doesn't work if the fugitive cannot be found.

But if he is found, and is collectible, the system does work.

The mother goes to a court in her own community and presents her claim for support (for her children or herself). This court relays the claim to a court in the other state, which orders the father to make payments. When he does, the second court sends the money back to the first court, which passes it along to the mother.

What if the father disputes the amount of support he is asked to pay? He has a right to voice his objections at a court hearing. If necessary, the mother can then send in her reply, to be presented on her behalf by a court official. This allows both sides to be "heard before the court makes its ruling.

But, while the father can challenge the amount of support, he cannot raise entirely new issues. In one case a father, ordered to pay support, retaliated with a petition for divorce. He argued:

"I have as much right to ask her for a divorce by long distance as she has to ask me for support by long distance."

However, the court decided this would be getting outside the scope of the "Runaway Pappy" law. Refusing to hear the father's divorce case, the judge said that under the reciprocal procedure "the only real issue is the duty of support."

Completely sold on brownies, boys and electric ranges!

And they'll continue to be sold on electric ranges long, long after brownies have become fudge layer cakes and boys have become husbands. Studies show a majority of girls who learn to cook on an electric range in home economics classes hope they will always have an electric range to cook on! Among the reasons they give for electricity's popularity are: ". . . electricity so clean. The whole kitchen stays cleaner." "The heat is more accurately controlled on an electric range." "An electric range is modern! It gives you all the newest cooking conveniences, like the self-cleaning oven."

A new electric range is so efficiently designed it cooks the food, not the air around it — and keeps your kitchen cooler. With automatic controls, it'll even cook your oven meals while you're away from home. Enjoy the easy, modern way to cook. Join the others who say — "It's an electric range for me — from now on!"

Outdoors In Texas—

By Vern Sanford

Today's black bass anglers consider trolling motors about as essential as the hunter's favorite hound. And that's pretty doggone important!

Fact of the matter is, if you want a top bass fisherman to go out on the lake with you . . . you'd better have a trolling motor on the transom or the bow of your boat. Some are even particular about whether it hangs fore or aft.

Don't get me wrong. They're not "uppetish." They are dedicated fishermen and they want every advantage available. When they go to the lake they go to fish. To them that means bringing home a stringer full.

Truth of the matter is that they know how really important the trolling motor is in locating and landing fish. They know that those little underwater powerpacks move slowly, quietly and disturb only a minimum of water. They know too that at slow speed the angler gets in more casts in a given area. Therefore he covers the section thoroughly, without retracing-hence quicker. More actual fishing time in more areas is the result, with the likelihook of more fish.

Rapidly increasing popularity of these mini-motors probably is the reason why some of the tackle people like Pflueger are buying up trolling-motor factories. Pflueger only recently purchased Phantom and now offers a choice of the very latest in lightweight, super-streamlined electric fishing motors. Size has been decreased, with a corresponding reduction in weight, yet they are more powerful and have less battery drain.

What bass fishermen want, of course, is an electric trolling motor that will run all day long, without draining the old battery dry. All day to them means daylight to dark. So, they expect a lot out of their trolling motor and equally as much, if not more, out of their battery. But, over the battery the motor manufacturer has little or no control.

We have noticed too that one of the battery-box builders has incorporated a battery charger inside the box, in a separate compartment from the battery. This for quick and easy, overnight recharging.

A looksee at most any lake reveals that there's a great market for trolling motors . . .be the lake in North, South, East or West Texas, or in the Valley. And every trolling motor calls for an extra battery.

So, juice up that little black box, Mr. Battery Man, and join the parade for the fishermen's trade.

Miss Mary White of Dallas spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Vina White.

Mrs. Hazel Peel of Temple visited her sister, Mrs. E. S. Hollingsworth Sunday. They visited another sister, Mrs. A. L. Massengale in Cameron Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bell Tyson and son, George Hall are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dodd and children in Austin.

Plan Weekend Drive To Visit Dinosaur Valley

Dinosaur tracks 100 million years old can be viewed by area vacationers or weekend "trippers" from Milam County in the developing Dinosaur Valley State Park, just a couple of hours driving from home.

Texas' newest addition to the State parks system has been included in the National Registry of Natural Landmarks.

The park site has more than a mile frontage on the Paluxy River, which flows over solid rock and contains the best preservd dinosaur tracks in the State. It was in this area that the first sauropod tracks in the world were recognized.

In addition, two other types of tracks are found in the area which were made by the duck - billed dinosaurs, and another by a smaller, meat eating dinosaur. It is one of the few areas in the United States where the three kinds of tracks appear together.

Texas was lapped by waters of a shallow, warm sea at the close of the "age of reptiles." The Glen Rose site is deemed nationally significant by the National Park Service in that it proves to paleontologists that the huge reptiles walked upright instead of crawling.

Paleontologists call the track fossils "ichnites," literally footprints in stone. As the mud became limestone, the footprints preserved a drama of that faraway time in the earth's development.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has agreed to purchase an additional 892 acres to be added to the park's original 382 acres. Developmest of the park site calls for special emphasis on the preservation and interpretation of the dinosaur tracks. Other proposed facilities will include picnicking, camping, and nature trails.

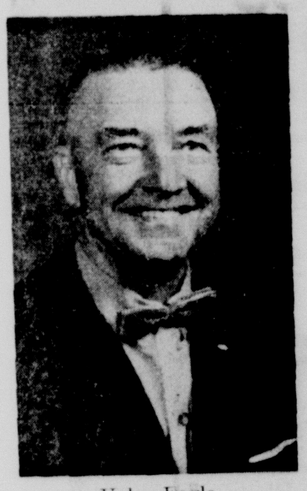

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Nora Matcek during the holidays were Mrs. Nelton Benton and daughter of San Antonio, Mrs. Kermit Clayton and children of Conroe, Mrs. Edmund Garner of Rockdale, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gaas and son, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kachtele of Temple and Mrs. Adolph Wiedner of Buckholts were also recent visitors.

Valon Fogle

Fogles Sharing Retirement Here

When Valon Fogle and his wife, Ruby, sit and reminisce about their working days, they will have many common experiences to share as they recall their four decades with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Fogle joined his wife in retirement from the company in February.

Friends and co-workers honored Fogle recently with a dinner at Cameron Country Club marking his retirement after 39 years, three months with Southwestern Bell. Mrs. Fogle began her retirement last year after 41 years with the telephone company.

Fogle was installer - repairman with the local company and had been working in Cameron since 1936. He began work with the company in Luling in 1932, serving in the construction department. During World War II he served with the Armed Forces for three years then resumed his job with the telephone company.

The Fogles met when he was transferred to Central Texas and both continued to work with the telephone company until Mrs. Fogle's retirement in 1968.

A special gift was presented to Fogle during the banquet from friends and co-workers.

The Fogles plan to enjoy ther leisure years in Cameron and on their farm "with a few cows," Mrs. Fogle said.

Screening Program To Detect Glaucoma At Rockdale Sunday

A free glaucoma screening will be held at the Rockdale Elementary School Cafetorium on Sunday, April 13 from 2:30 until 5 p.m. The free tests are open to all area residents, 35 years of age and over.

The program is sponsored by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness and Rockdale Lions Club in cooperation with members of the Travis and Bell County Medical Societies. The program has been approved by Milam County Medical Soliety and local Health Department.

The test, which is simple and painless, will be administered as a public service by medical eye doctors. A few drops of a mild anesthetic are put in the eyes, and pressure within the eyeball is measured with a tonometer. The test will not affect vision for driving afterwards.

Glaucoma is the leading cause of permanent blindness in the nation, according to the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness. There is effective treatment to arrest the disease, in most cases, if detected early.

Early detection of glaucoma is the main purpose of screening programs such as the one scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

County Agent's Notes . . .

Midge Damage Concerns Plantea

By J. D. Moore

An estimated 75 percent of the county's grain sorghum crop was planted during the first week of April. This planting date is not too far from last year's planting date. The reason for mentioning the date is due to the concern of farmers for possible midge damage in late planted maize.

What is considered late planted maize? This would be determined by the date of the migration of midge from Johnson grass heads into grain sorghum fields. Our opinion is any grain sorghum planted after April 15 could be late planted.

The damage from midge again depends on the life cycle development as affected by the weather as well as host plant development. Johnson grass is considered the major host plant.

Records show that the number of days from planting to blooming date will vary from 70 to 75 days. Therefore, grain sorghum planted the first week in April should reach the bloom stage by June 15. About all farmers can do about this situation is to pay attention to available information on grain sorghum varieties and plant at the earliest possible date.

A number of grain sorghum variety tests were planted in the county to study the performance of the number of good available varieties.

Among those planting these test plots are: Frank Kratochvil Hugo Aigner, Eugene Klein, Wilburn Beckhusen, Doyal Arnold, Oscar Theis and Guy Tittle. 4-H'ers planting tests are: Melvin Hollas, Martin and Jerry Mueck, Clyde Jistel and Jim Crenan.

There are other test plots planted whose reports have not been received by the county agent. Reports on these tests will made available to the public.

Remodeling Home? New Housing Act Expands Loan Limit

COLLEGE STATION

Seven out of every ten homeowners plan to modernize or remodel within the near future. If you are one of them a new Housing Act may lend financial assistance.

The upsurge in home improvement is related closely to the fact that financing for home modernization more readily has been available than for long-term mortgages, Extension Housing Specialist Mrs. Jane Berry explains.

Under the new Housing Act, regular FHA home improvement loans are being expanded to a limit of $5,000 with seven years to repay. In the past the limit was $3,500.

Improvements which tend to increase livability and value of the home include the addition of an up-to-date kitchen, complete with applicances, and an extra bath. Converting a porch or attic to a living room, den or bedroom increases interior living space and has strong appeal to many prospective buyers.

Another wise investment for any hometowner is an adequate wiring system with the capacity to take care of present and future electrical installations.

You Don't Say . . :.

FINANCIER

if you are pronouncing it FYE nan seer.

FINANCIER is pronounced FIN en SEER and means "one engaged in financial operations on a large scale" "one skilled in financial affairs".

For FINANCE, which means the science of monetary affairs, the dictionary gives fih NANCE and FYE nance but the first pronunciation is preferred.

Folk Musical At Baylor Waco Hall

"Tell It Like It Is," a folk musical about God, will be premiered in the Central Texas area by the Baylor Religious Hour Choir April 16 (Wednesday).

The performance of the musical will be 8 p.m. in Waco Hall on the Bayor University campus. Tickets will be $1.75 for adults and $1 for students. They will be available from the Baylor Office of Religious Activities in the Union Building and will be sold at the door.

The premiere will be directed by Kurt Kaiser who collaborated with Ralph Carmichael, well-known composer from Los Angeles, Calif., in writing the musical.

"Tell It Like It Is" is written for today's young people in their style of music and lyrics. Kaiser and Carmichael, both pioneers in the contemporary religious music field, began writing this new work with the premise that "some of the music in the church is far removed from the rest of the week and doesn't make it with the kids."

RHS Is Winner At Literary Meet

Rogers High School won first place in District 22-A literary University Interscholastic League meet held at Temple Junior College last Friday, with 198 points. Rosebud High School was second with 180 points.

At first Rosebud was named winner, but W. C. Fowler, director general of the meet, issued a statement Wednesday in which he said that the committee tabulating the results failed to count the points Rogers won in boys debate.

It was also announced at first that Carolyn Doskocil, winner in girls' poetry interpretation was from Rosebud High School, but Fowler corrected that to Rogers.

RECONDO TRAINING

Maturity dates for price-support loans placed on 1968-crop grains and similarly handled commodities have been set by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The dates are unchanged from those in effect for 1967 crops. Price-support loans on eligible commodities will be available up to one month prior to the loan maturity dates. Grain sorghum loans for 1968 mature June 30, 1969.

Those producers desiring to place 1968 crop cotton under loan will have until May 31, 1969. The loans will mature on July 31, 1969.

Front to rear: Kingswood Estate Wagon, Concours Station Wagon, Sportvan and Suburban.

No other wagons have such a capacity for enjoyment.

Show you what we mean.

Say you're in a Chevrolet Kingswood or Concours Walk-In Wagon, when suddenly the road becomes nothing but chuckholes and ruts.

Only you can't tell it's rough.

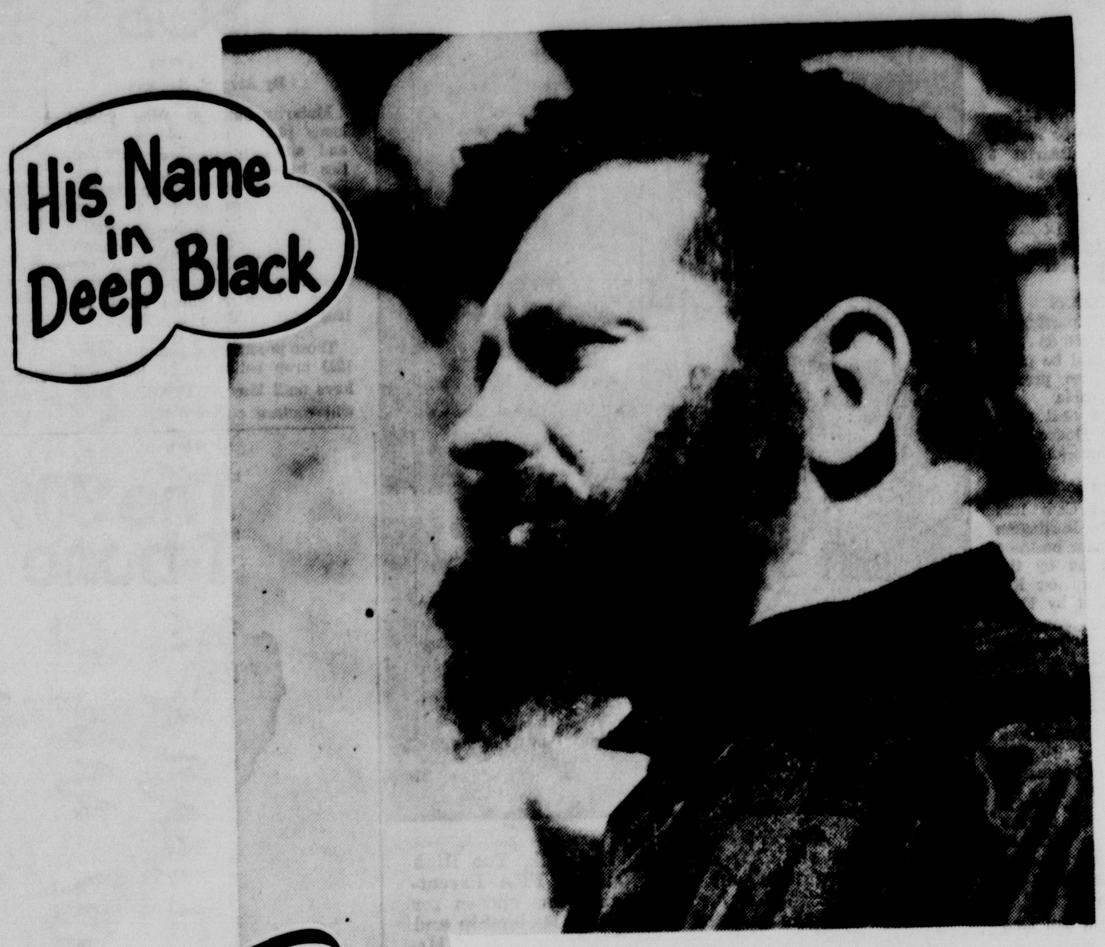

You see, Chevy wagons float along on computer-selected coil springs that smooth even the meanest road.

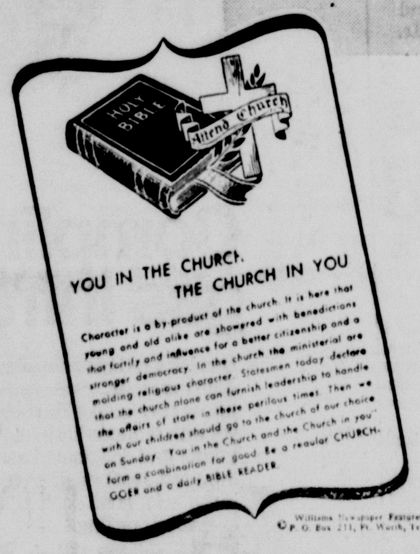

Maybe you're a bit more serious about the great outdoors. So are we. That's why we offer the Chevy Sportvan and Suburban. To an outdoorsman, they're like clear skies and no mosquitoes.

So before you head out to see the U.S.A., better stop by your Chevrolet dealer's.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH
and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

Judas, the traitorous, pernicious, faithless Apostle who, under the semblance of friendship, betrayed Christ. How many good, sound, fair appearing persons do you have on your friendship list who are not friends at all but are worthless, deceptive characters . . . not to be trusted. How many Judases do you know?

What a chance this man had for greatness! What an opportunity for service to a world in urgent need! One of twelve to walk with the Son of God along life's pathway! What would we not give for his opportunity to do and to be! But Judas "blacked out." He failed and wrote his own name in "DEEP BLACK" across the pages of history for all time. He preferred thirty pieces of silver to the fellowship and blessing of Jesus; he failed to appreciate beauty and goodness and gracious companionship with the highest. His "sights" were low . . . his interests selfish.

Other men counted it an honor to carry a cross for the Master; JUDAS sent Him to Calvary to die in shameful agony. JUDAS might have followed Christ to the end and shared a martyr's death, but he preferred a disgraceful grave in the field of the nameless or shameless dead.

We have but one life to live, and that one life is too precious to be wasted. "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his life?" What is it to lose? What is it to gain? Jesus was thought to have lost, but in that self-sacrifice He saved a world of dying men. This man Judas gloated over his gain, but generations have wept for him as a lost soul. Are you and I really winning, or are we losing? Truly we have but one life to give . . . shall we not write it credibly on the pages of history for ourselves and for humanity? Shall we not hold it high for the service of men and for the worship of God? Attend your church; be faithful. Don't be a JUDAS.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

"The War of The Worlds," a spine-tingling, science-fiction story of an invastion of the Earth by Martians starring Gene Barry and Ann Robinson, will be seen in color, on "The ABC Sunday Night Movie," SUNDAY, APRIL 13.

Facing extinction by diminishing oxygen and falling temperatures on their own planet, the Martians covet the rich atmosphere and fertile fields of planet Earth.

One night, a huge, flaming projectile lands near the little California town of Linda Rosa. Among those who witness this unusual event are Clayton Forrester (Gene Barry), a young scientist on a fishing trip, and Sylvia Van Buren (Ann Robinson), an attractive young science teacher.

The Martian space ship scans the surrounding terrain with a flaming eye and then spits deadly heat rays which reduce everything in its path, human and otherwise, to ashes.

Word soon reaches Linda Rosa that similar ships have also landed in other parts of the world.

Panic quickly spreads as people of the Earth discover that all their weaponry is ineffectual against the Martian machines.

Then, in one last desperate attempt for survival, scientists, including Forrester and Sylvia, evacuate to the mountains, where they hope to find a way to stop the Martians.
